usly once or twice, and exclaimed,
"Well, boys, what say we—done?"
"Aye, done?" echoed all, simultaneously.
"I'm to provide the eatables and drinkables, hey? They're going to be first-rate; you shan't complain o' them; the old 'oman can make as good a cake or pie as any pretty little mouth in the village could wish—that they knows; and as say a good word fur them." (Then, without allowing time for a reply, mine-less continued:) "But I tell you what, boys, I don't think you can get the young gals to go; they're so timid, you know, poor things! They're dreadful skeered 'hout that Wich as they call her you ut that Witch, as they calls her, up there at Golding Gorge; an' I don't b'lieve all ther pic-nics in ther world could make 'em go "There's no harm in asking them, I suppose," remarked a tall, handsome youth, with long rich brown hair, who sat nearly opposite old John. John raised his head, and, looking him steadily in the face with a peculiar smile, said, slowly"No-a, certainly not, Mister Ed'n! there ain't no great harm in that; an' I think ef any body stands a chance o' gittin' 'em to go, you do, you know! Jest you git that sweet little angel o' your'n to agree to go, and I'll bet a bottle o' my prime ole beer there won't be one one or two voices, as Edwin Berry, who had just been addressed, colored to the temples. 'Stop, old fellow," continued another; "why, you've made Ned's cheeks the color of your nose, he blushes so !"

"No reflections on my nose, ef you please, Mister Harry," said old John, good-naturedly, to the last speaker, "Mister Ed'n don't mind

"Not a bit," said young Berry, now quite recovered, "not a bit, as you say, John; and if you think I could prevail with Miss Bell to go. I've no objection to try it." "I've no doubt of it," said John; "an' now, boys, let's understand it. It's goin' to be a reglar pic-nic-none o' your half-way thingsa ride in buggies an' on horseback twenty good miles-ther day after to-merrow-dinner at 2, That's it," exclaimed all, laughing at John's precise mention of the hour of meals; and in ed member, and by the Grand Lodge, of which, ten minutes after, the White House was de- also, he was Past Grand Master. The funeral serted by the little party, and the preliminaries arranged for a revelation of the mysteries of Golding Gorge.

AMERICAN TELEGRAPH WASHINGTON

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, SEPT. 26.

EXCHANGE PAPERS.—We continue to receive by every mail newspapers containing our little card "To the Pul lic," and asking an exchange. Our offer in that has been

Consul Owen.

The letter from our intellectual, humane, and intrepid consul at Havana, will, we are sure. be pronounced by Concha, the Captain-General of Cuba, and by one or two editors of the triumphant defence against the charges of inhumanity and imbecility preferred by the gallant, but indiscreet, Americans, who embarked in the unfortunate expedition against that island. By all others in the United States, in England, and throughout christendom, the defence of Consul Owen will be declared wholly unsatisfactory, puerile, and contemptible. As Americans, we feel humiliated and chagrined in the contemplation of the fact that there was one of our countrymen, and he holding an important position abroad, who could, on this lamentable occasion, evince such cold-blooded and craven qualities, or such pitiable mental

Let us, however, give the ignoble Consul the benefit of his defence; it is his due, and he is welcome to all it can gain for him. Let it be of this lady at New York, according to the ters of the law and the people have been promp calmly perused by the world at large, but espe- journals of that city, was a highly successful cially by President Fillmore, who, it may be, one, and she is pronounced an accomplished feels some concern in the matter. It carries with it its own eloquent commentary.

Whether Mr. Owen's conduct is to be ascribed to his voluntary choice, or to the restraining influence of the President's proclamation and private instructions, we of course cannot know; but in either case he is a despised and a degraded man in the land of his birth. The almost universal voice of his countrymen condemns and execrates his conduct; and his name will in future be associated with events as disgraceful to our nation as they were cruel and piteous in their nature. Let not, however, this reproach fall upon the guiltless. The names of Crittenden, Brandt, Kerr, Vienne, and the rest, will henceforth be often spoken in kindly accents; but let not the heart of affection be saddened by the story of a husband and a father's disgrace. Arnold and Burr were false to their country; but our Consul at Cuba has been false to every feeling of fraternity, and has proved a traitor to every sentiment of humanity. He cannot, even in distant climes, find a refuge from contempt; for the pity and compassion he should have shown his countrymen were felt by the representatives of other nations at Cuba : and offices of consoling friendship, in the dark hour of calamity, were rendered to American citizens by the consular agents of far-distant monarchs.

It has been said that Mr. Owen could not have so far misunderstood the views of the President! Let us know what those views were. We know them, so far as the Proclamation reveals them; and it may be our fault, but we cannot see that he has varied much from guide him, it is right the public should know firemen.

There was not a point in which you could object it. Whether obedient or disobedient to the Executive orders, he is a fallen man. All that remains to be decided is, is he alone to full?

AN OLD MAN .- There is now living near the east end of Bridge street, in Georgetown, an old gentleman by the name of William Hardy. He is a native of Ireland, whence he emigrated to this country about the time she gained her independence. He landed in Baltimore, but removed to the former place many years before the town was incorporated by the Legislature of Maryland. He recollects distinctly when there was not an improved street in little establishment but the merry party round the town, and but three houses on Bridge street; the clean-spread deal table in the "best parnow numbers some six or eight hundred members, white and colored, worshipped in an old cooper-shop, the preacher using the choppingblock as a stand to preach from. He does not know the date of his birth, but judging from circumstances, and events of which he has a distinct recollection, we have no doubt that he has nearly, if not quite, filled up his hundred

Old Time seems to have dealt gently with him; his mental faculties appear to be unimpaired, and he will frequently run his mind back to the days of his childhood, and trace his history upward, and interest his friends with a fur the black bottles, why I guess you can all recital of many striking and interesting events and strange coincidences through which he has passed. His sense of hearing is acute; he never used spectacles, and is very fond of conversation. His disposition is lively and cheerful, sometimes even playful, and he walks erect and at a brisk pace. He is a regular attendant at the Methodist church, of which he has been a member for more than seventy years. May repose and every comfort be his during the few remaining days of his well-spent life.

THE MAN THAT LOVES A MUSS .- Gen. Webb, editor of the New York Courier and Enquirer, though no doubt possessing some very good traits of character, is ever in a muss with somebody. He left the army at an early period of his life, as is understood, on account of a muss; he had a muss with the old United States Bank : o' the sugars 'll stay behind."
"Hello! John, that ain't fair," interrupted a series of musses with James Gordon Bennett; he had a muss with the late Mr. Cilley; he had a muss with Tom Marshall; he had a muss with General Taylor; he had a muss with the United States Senate; he had a muss with N. P. Willis: and now he has had a muss with General Wool of the army. One peculiarity about the General is, that when he does not come off first best-which he never does-he is sure to be second; and that is very consoling!

ODD - FELLOWS' FUNEBAL .- The remains of our lamented fellow-citizen, the late Captain J. A. Blake, which arrived here from New York on Wednesday night, were yesterday committed to the tomb. The obsequies were conducted by Central Lodge of the I. O. O. F., of which Captain Blake was an old and respectescort was conducted by the Washington Light Infantry, Captain Tate, which was first commanded by the deceased. The procession of the Order was large and imposing, and proceeded from the late residence of Captain B. to the Congressional Burying Ground, under the direction of R. W. Grand Marshal Hunt. The Marine and Washington Light Infantry Bands were in attendance.

Another State.-We see it stated that, by the late treaty with the See-see-tran and Wahpay-toan bands of Sioux Indians, the United States obtain over twenty-one millions of acres. lying east of a line drawn from the head waters of the Red River of the North, to intersect the northwestern corner of the State of Iowa. The purchase includes part of the magnificent United States, (but not by one in England!) a Blue Earth River country, and that around the head waters of the Des Moines and St. Peter's rivers. The Indians are allowed to remain on the land two years. For this cession they are to receive $1,665,000. The Galena papers propose that the name Dacota be given to the new Territory, and such may yet be the name of one of the States of the Union.

> BUSINESS PROSPERITY .- A fact related in the New York Star the other day may be worthy played. the consideration of Washington business men. The editor says that in running over the list of heavy failures which have occurred in that city during the past ten days, he does not find the name of a single house that had advertised extensively in any popular medium!

MISS CATHARINE HAYES .- The first concert artist and exceedingly sweet singer. We quote a few words of comment from the Tribune:

Catharine Hayes's voice is one of marvellou compass, extending from the highest soprano the deepest contralto. Her highes notes are inferior in purity, in strength, and in sweetness to Jenny Lind's, but her lowest are fuller and finer. She seems possessed of all vocal accomplishments. Her trill, her persistency of breath, and purity of tone in crescendo passages, her skilful blending of the different registers—all of this is unimpeachable, as became apparent to the progression of pieces announced in the programme. We should not, perhaps, lay so much stress upon Miss Hayes' ballad singing as seems to be done by most of her friends. She certainly sings a fine ballad, a finer in some (though not all) respects than first concert, we cannot but think that in opera, and in the warm Italian style, she would please

THE STORY commenced on our first page today will be found worthy a perusal and of preservation. It will be completed in three or four

SHOT HIMSELF .- Mr. O. Burch Suit, near Upper Marlboro, Md., accidentally shot himself in the leg, on Tuesday last. The wound is severe.

THE STEAMER MISSISSIPPI.—She got aground near Smyrna, on her way to Constantinople to receive Kossuth, but was got off undamaged by taking out her guns and other lading; she would be able to get to Constantinople in season to accomplish the purpose of her mission.

We omitted to state yesterday that the Friendship and Sun fire companies, of Alexandria, the spirit of what is there expressed. If he came to the aid of our firemen on Wednesday had other and more minute instructions to night. They were gladly welcomed by our

The September number has been presented to us by our friend Shillington. It is full of good things, and this is among them:

The Last Appendix to "Yankee Deedle." YANKER DOODLE sent to Town
His goods for exhibition;
Everybody ran him down,
And laugh'd at his position:
They thought him all the world behind;

A goney, muff, or noodle; Laugh on, good people—never mind— Says quiet Yanker Doodle. Chorus.—Yanker Doodle, &c. YANKER DOODLE had a craft, A rather tidy clipper,
And he challenged, while they laughed,
The Britishers to whip her.
Their whole yacht-squadron she outsped,
And that on their own water;
Of all the lot she went a-head,
And they came nowhere arter.
Chorus.—YANKER DOODLE, &c.

O'er Panama there was a scheme
Long talk'd of, to pursue a
Short route—which many thought a dream—
By Lake Niessense. By Lake Nicaragua.

John Bull discussed the plan on foot,
With slow irresolution,
While Yanker Doodle went and put It into execution.

Chorus.—YANKEE DOODLE, &c.

A steamer of the Collins line, A YANKER DOODLE's notion, Has also quickest cut the brine Across the Atlantic Ocean. And British agents, noways slow Her merits to discover, Her merits to discover, Have been and bought her—just to tow The Cunard packets over. Chorus.—Yanker Doodle, &c.

Chorus.—YANKEE DOODLE, &c.
Your gunsmiths of their skill may crack,
But that again don't mention;
I guess that Colt's revolvers whack
Their very first invention.
By YANKEE DOODLE, too, you're beat
Downright in Agriculture,
With his machine for reaping wheat,
Chaw'd up as by a vulture.
Chorus.—YANKEE DOODLE, &c.

You also fancied, in your pride, Which truly is tarnation,
Them British locks of your'n defied
The rogues of all creation;
But Chubb's and Braman's Hobbs has picked, And you must new be viewed all
As having been completely licked
By glorious YANKEE DOODLE.
Chorus.—YANKEE DOODLE, &c.

[From the Baltimore Sun of this morning.] The Christiana Outrage. Decision of Justice Reigart-Prisoners committed on the Charge of Treason and Murder-Recovery of Dickinson Gorsuch, &c. Columbia, Pa., Sept. 25, 1851.—The exam ination of the prisoners charged with a participation in the murder of Mr. Edward Gorsuch was closed at Lancaster this morning, when the following decision was given by Justice John F.

After a careful examination into this melancholy tragedy, which occurred on the morning of September 11th, in the county of Lancaster, and from the solemn oaths and affirmations of good and respectable citizens-their testimony before us-we are satisfied that Edward Gor such, of Maryland, whilst in pursuit of his own property, in the township of Sadsburg, was cruelly murdered by an armed band of blacks, aided and abetted by whites. That others were severely wounded, and the officer of the United severely wounded, and the officer of the United States Government was resisted by force and arms, whilst in the performance of his duty, ander the authority of the nots of Congress, is also testified to.

Without commenting upon that which will ever be lamented by the good citizens of this country, who are ever ready to respect and obey those laws made by the people themselves, we feel it to be our solemn duty to commit Castner Hannaway, Elijah Lewis, John Morgan, Henry Simms, and Jacob Moore, charged with the crime of treason against the United States, and aiding and abetting in the murder of Edward Gorsuch, a worthy citizen of the State of Maryland. The parties were immediately committed to jail, the offence not being bailable. I am happy to inform you that Dickinson Gorsuch is rapidly recovering, and expects to be able to start home next week.

[SECOND DESPATCH.]
Lewis and Hannaway and Three Negroes Committed for Treason—Discharge of Six and Committal of Seven others - Contest of Counsel, &c.

LANCASTER, September 25 .- The magistrate, at nine o'clock this morning, gave his decision in the case of the Christiana rioters brought to this place. He directed that the two whites. Lewis and Hannaway, and three blacks, be committed to the custody of the U. S. Marshal, to be taken to Philadelphia, and there to be tried for high treason against the United States. At ten o'clock the examination of the thirteen prisoners commenced. The magistrate directed that six of them be discharged, and that the re maining seven be taken to Philadelphia for trial. The excitement here has subsided, and the conmunity are satisfied with the decision of the magistrate

There was considerable sparring between the counsel at the winding up of the case. Mr. Thompson, the District Attorney, deserves much credit for the energy and skill which he has dis-

And if they do not, we shall unite in denounce ng them, and in demanding all that our friends of the Republican can desire.

BLOOMERS IN PHILADELPHIA.—The reign of the "Bloomers" in Philadelphia may fairly be the "Bloomers" in Philadelphia may larry be said to have begun. On pleasant evenings Chesnut street is alive with them, generally promenading in parties, and attended by gentlemen. For several weeks indeed this new style has been increasing in favor, as an in-door costume, but the natural timidity of the sex prevents as yet the adoption of the fashion for promenade to the same extent. We have published one or two communications on the sub-ject, showing the disposition of numerous ladies to adopt the "Bloomer," and we have received other contributions of a similar purport. fully coincide in all that our fair correspondents write as to the absurdity of trains on the street. Moreover, the flapping of a wet skirt against the ankle is a sure provocative of colds, yet while females continue to wear long dress the skirts must become wet in rainy weather Some of these days perhaps one of our leaders of ton will lend her countenance to a reform in attire, and then the modifications, which now have to struggle against fashion, will be ac-credited in all circles.—Phil.
